Tour highlights

An 8-day group tour of Uzbekistan's Silk Road cities with a Spanish-speaking guide: Tashkent, Samarkand, Bukhara and Khiva. The journey brings the country's history and culture to life, from the architectural masterpieces of the Timurid era to the legacy of the empires of Alexander the Great, Genghis Khan and Timur (Tamerlane), who made Samarkand the capital of his state.

In Tashkent you visit the Hazrati Imam Complex, the Chorsu Bazaar and the richly decorated stations of the Tashkent Metro, and watch plov being cooked in giant cauldrons at the Besh Qozon plov centre. A high-speed train takes you to Samarkand for two days at the Registan, the Gur-e Amir mausoleum of Tamerlane, the Bibi-Khanym Mosque and the Shah-i-Zinda necropolis, with a wine tasting at a family winery.

From Bukhara, with the Lyabi-Hauz ensemble and its 16th-century covered bazaars, the road crosses the Kyzylkum Desert along the Amu Darya to Khiva, whose walled inner city Ichan Kala is a UNESCO World Heritage Site. Along the way you stroll through colorful local bazaars, taste Uzbek cuisine and enjoy the hospitality of the locals.

Difficulty: Easy. Guided city walking tours on mostly flat ground, one long drive of 440 km (Bukhara – Khiva, 6–7 hours) and a high-speed train journey; no altitude.

DAY

Tashkent: old town, Chorsu Bazaar and the metro

After breakfast you explore Tashkent, whose main historical and architectural monuments are concentrated in the old part of the city. At 11:00 the tour of the old town starts at the Hazrati Imam Complex (Khast-Imam), with Khast-Imam Square, the Barak-Khan Madrasah, the Tillya Sheikh Mosque and the Kaffal-ash-Shashi Mausoleum, a popular pilgrimage site for Muslims.

Next you visit the Kukeldash Madrasah, built in 1570 under the Sheibanid dynasty, and Chorsu Bazaar, the oldest market in Tashkent and a historic stop on the Silk Road.

Lunch is at the legendary Besh Qozon Central Asian Plov Centre, where master chefs cook up to ten tons of plov a day in giant cauldrons. Watch how rice, meat and spices are combined, then enjoy this famous Uzbek dish.

In the afternoon you see the modern city centre: Independence and Eternity Square with its fountains and monuments, Amir Timur Square and the Opera and Ballet Theatre square. The day ends with a ride on the Tashkent Metro, whose stations are unique works of architecture and decoration, like a museum of Uzbek history and culture. Transfer back to the hotel.

3

Tashkent – Samarkand by high-speed train

After breakfast you take the morning high-speed train from Tashkent to Samarkand (309 km), one of Uzbekistan's most famous cities with more than 2,750 years of history.

On arrival the sightseeing starts at the Registan, the most famous square in Central Asia, framed by the Ulugh Beg, Sher-Dor and Tillya-Kori madrasahs. Next you visit the Gur-e Amir Mausoleum, the tomb of the great Tamerlane (Amir Timur), and continue to the Ak-Saray and Rukhobod mausoleums.

After lunch the tour continues to the Bibi-Khanyim Mosque, once one of the largest mosques in the Muslim world, and Shah-i-Zinda, a magnificent necropolis whose buildings reflect the city's long history.

Overnight Samarkand · Arba Hotel or similar

4

Samarkand: Siab Bazaar, Ulugh Beg Observatory and a winery

In the morning you stroll through Siab Bazaar, Samarkand's oldest oriental market, full of local produce and handcrafted goods.

In the afternoon you visit the Ulugh Beg Observatory and Museum (Ulugh Beg, the grandson of Tamerlane, was a renowned ruler and scientist) and the Afrasiyab Museum of the ancient city.

Then you continue to Bagizagan Winery, a family estate that has produced wines and brandies for five generations. Learn about local grape growing, tour the winery and enjoy a guided wine tasting.

In the evening you return to the Registan to see the illuminated madrasahs.

Bukhara – Khiva across the Kyzylkum Desert

After breakfast, at 8:00, you leave by road for Khiva (440 km, 6–7 hours), crossing the Kyzylkum Desert along the Amu Darya River on the historic Silk Road route once used by countless caravans. Kyzylkum means "Red Sand", named after the reddish color of the local sand. Several stops along the way let you admire the dunes and the views over the Amu Darya.

On arrival you check in at the hotel and have free time. In the evening you walk through Ichan Kala, visiting local workshops and shopping for souvenirs.
