Tour highlights

An 8-day 4×4 camping expedition from Aktau through the deserts and canyons of Mangystau. The first day leads to the Fallen Land of Zhygylgan, the rock-cut Shakpak-Ata mosque and Kapamsay Canyon, then on to the round boulders of Torysh, Akespe Gorge, the purple Jurassic clays of Kokala, the yurt-shaped Sherkala and the castle-like cliffs of Airakty. After the white salt flat of Tuzbair you spend a night in a shared yurt, before the underground mosque of Karaman-Ata, Ybyk Gorge and a camp by Kyzylkup (Tiramisu) Canyon.

Bokty Mount, the Mars Panorama and Dragon Crest of Bozjyra and a night beneath the Bozjyra Fangs follow, then the Senek dunes and a hotel night in Zhanaozen. The highlight comes at the end: an off-road crossing of the Ustyurt Plateau via Onere to the remote Karynzharyk Depression, where you camp among salt flats and isolated mountains before the drive back to Aktau. Five nights are spent in tents, one in a yurt and one in a hotel, with an English-speaking tour leader throughout.

Difficulty: Moderate. No altitude or technical sections, but long 4×4 days (about 125–310 km a day, much of it off-road, up to 146 km off-road on the Karynzharyk days), short walks at the sights and five nights of basic camping in the desert. Not suitable for children under 6, pregnant women or people with disabilities.

Day-by-day itinerary

DAY 1

Zhygylgan, Shakpak-Ata, Kapamsai Canyon

162 km on road & 61 km off-road

After pick-up in Aktau, the journey begins at 10:00 AM with Zhygylgan, also known as the Fallen Land, a vast geological depression near the Caspian coast scattered with house-sized boulders. Natural patterns and ancient markings create a landscape that hints at the presence of prehistoric creatures.

Next, visit the Shakpak-Ata Underground Mosque, an ancient mosque carved directly into the chalk rock of the Tyub-Karagan peninsula. Its architecture and historical significance make it a truly unique site to explore.

The adventure then leads to Kapamsai Canyon, where steep cliffs and dramatic rock formations highlight the region's rugged natural beauty, making it a perfect spot for photos and quiet reflection.

The day concludes with camping at Kapamsai Canyon, where you can enjoy a hot dinner and spend the night under a canopy of stars, surrounded by the serene desert landscape.

Meals include lunch during the day and a warm dinner in the evening, with accommodation in tents at the campsite.

DAY 2

Torysh, Akespe, Kokala, Sherkala, Airakty

141 km on road & 39 km off-road

The day begins with Torysh, also known as the Valley of Balls. This area is famous for its mysterious spherical rock formations, a unique geological phenomenon that captures the imagination of all who visit.

Next, continue to Akespe Gorge, where sheer limestone cliffs rise dramatically above a winding path. Each turn reveals new rock formations, offering a sense of wonder at the canyon's rugged beauty.

After lunch at a local café, the route continues to Kokala, home to the Jurassic Clays. Here, vibrant purple hues and ancient rock layers create a striking landscape, showcasing millions of years of geological history.

A short drive brings you to Sherkala Mount, often called the "Sphinx of Mangystau." Its distinctive shape, reminiscent of a yurt, makes it one of the most iconic natural landmarks in the region.

The final stop is Airakty, the Valley of Castle-Shaped Mountains. Walk among towering rock formations that resemble fortresses and soak in the dramatic desert scenery.

Overnight at Airakty in tents, surrounded by the otherworldly landscape. Outdoor breakfast, lunch, hot dinner. Camping in tents.

DAY 3

Tuzbair Salt Flat, yurt camp near Tuzbair

157 km on road & 94 km off-road

Today's drive leads to the lower part of Tuzbair, where white chalk cliffs rise above a dazzling salt flat (sor) and striking rock formations. Take in its expansive, tranquil landscape and walk across the salt flat.

In the evening, continue to a traditional yurt camp near Tuzbair, enjoy a hot dinner and spend the night in a shared yurt.

Meals: Outdoor breakfast, lunch, hot dinner.
Accommodation: Shared yurt at the camp.

DAY 4

Karaman Ata Underground Mosque, Ybyk (Porous Gorge), Zhanaozen, Kyzylkup (Tiramisu) Canyon

240.5 km on road & 69.6 km off-road

Begin the day at Karaman Ata, one of Mangystau's remarkable underground mosques. This revered site and necropolis, carved directly into rock, offers insight into the region's spiritual history and is a fascinating place to explore.

Next, visit Ybyk (Porous Gorge), where unusual porous walls, grottos and narrow passages create an awe-inspiring landscape that highlights the raw power of nature.

After a stop in Zhanaozen, drive to the Shakpakty panorama above Kyzylkup, also known as Tiramisu Canyon due to its layered rock formations that resemble the famous dessert. Explore the canyon and enjoy a peaceful evening camping amidst this iconic landscape.

DAY 5

Bokty Mount, Bozjyra National Park: Mars Panorama, Dragon Crest, Under the Fangs

46 km on road & 78 km off-road

The day starts at Bokty Mount, a striking pyramid-shaped peak with bands of colored geological layers that rises dramatically from the desert, resembling a natural monument carved by time and wind. On the way to Bozjyra you also pass Naiza mountain.

After lunch at a local café, continue to Bozjyra National Park and the Mars Panorama viewpoint. From here, the cliffs and ridges stretch out in surreal formations, creating a landscape that feels almost extraterrestrial. Next comes Dragon Crest, a jagged ridge whose spine-like formations resemble the mythical dragon it is named after.

Camping: End the day camping at the foot of the iconic Bozjyra Fangs. Enjoy a hot dinner at the camp and spend the evening stargazing in the serene desert surroundings.
